Sante Fe Souvenir Medal Out

A commemorative souvenir for the 350th anniversary of Santa Fe, N. M., is announced by the Santa Fe's 350th, Inc.

The gold bronze medal is engraved with the seal of the anniversary of Santa Fe, depicting the four regimes which have held power there from 1610 to 1960.

The four regimes are the Indian, the Spanish, the Confederacy and the United States. It also depicts Santa Fe as an important junction point on the old Spanish, Escalante, Coronado and Onate Trails.

The souvenirs are available for one dollar postpaid from Santa Fe's 350th, Inc., P. O. Box 615, Santa Fe, N. M.

Collection Stolen From Pa. Residence

A $4,000 collection of United States coins was stolen from the Pleasant Hills, Pa., home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Williams.

They discovered the theft when they returned home from a meeting of the Pittsburgh Numismatic Society where they had displayed some of their more valuable coins. Mrs. Williams is secretary of the Pittsburgh organization.

The loss included complete sets of Liberty half dollars, quarters, dimes, nickels, more than 1,800 Indian head cents, a complete set of Mercury head dimes and rolls of uncirculated coins.

A number of proof sets, 1951-1959, were also missing.

Thieves entered a hobby room and carried off the loot in three suitcases.

The Williams' keep their really valuable items in a bank vault, according to his report to the police.

Cincinnati, Ohio police are holding two juvenile escapees from the Mt. Alverno School for Boys after they were arrested in an attempt to exchange silver dollars into paper money.

Police said the coins and other items found in the youths' possession were valued at $1,000 and had been stolen from Phillip Kientz, 80, of 788 S. 5th street, a distant relative of one of the boys.

Police said the one boy stole other coins from Kientz' collection in a previous escape two months ago.

James Mark Kleiner, 14, became the victim of a coin burglar for the third time in a year recently. Young Kleiner values his most recent loss of coins at $150.

Confederate Money Passed In Norway

Norwegian officials are on the hunt for two young men who changed $100 in 1864 Confederate money in two Oslo shops earlier this month.

They got 700 kroner, nearly $9.

Police figured the unreconstructed rebels aren't through!

When one shopkeeper became suspicious, the pair flashed a big roll of the bills as proof the money was good.

Cloth Money Circulates

Coarse cotton cloth, approximately nine inches wide and 18 to 20 feet long, circulated in parts of Ethiopia as money. They were called "fedgat." One piece of "fedgat" this size would purchase 60 pieces of iron.

New York Firm Publishes Catalog For Pricing Coins

New "Green" Book

Calif. Towns List Third Annual Show

The Sacramento - San Joaquin area's third annual Coin Show with a bourse and auction will be held at Mickey's Grove Memorial Park, west of U. S. Highway 99, about eight miles north of Stockton, Calif., and four miles south of Lodi, on Sunday, October 23.

The Sacramento Valley Coin Club is the host with Delta Coin Club members assisting them.

A new book for pricing coins was published this week by Coin and Currency Institute, New York.

Edited by Robert Friedberg, "Appraising and Selling Your Coins" lists the premium price paid by dealers for coins and paper money of the United States and Canada.

The book features, for the first time published anywhere in a catalog, the prices for uncirculated rolls from 1934.

It covers the United States series from 1652 to date and the Canadian and Newfoundland coinage since 1858.

Only one price is given for each coin. As pointed out in the introduction, "The values in this book are based on the condition in which the coins are most frequently found, namely, good to very good."

Prices given for gold coins, however, are for fine to very fine specimens in choice condition. Paper money prices are quoted in used condition for large size bills, small size bills must be in new condition.

With the cover printed in two-color green, the premium value book is known as "the green coin book." It is a handy size and fully illustrated.

The 176 page book lists coinage figures with each coin entry.

Robert Friedberg is the author or editor of three other books — two of which are standard reference works — all of which were published by Coin and Currency Institute, Inc.

His "Paper Money of the United States" was first published in 1953. It is now in its third edition.

The "Gold coins of the World" was the first numismatic work to catalog gold coins of all periods from all countries. He also compiled the "International Coin Catalogue."

"The lower the denomination, the greater the demand," says editor Friedberg in his newest book, commenting upon the strongest trend in collecting taste. "Hence the king of American coins is the cent."

"There are millions more who collect cents—Lincoln and Indian — than any other coins." He points out that for each denomination the number of collectors is greater than that of any higher denomination, even: "many more who collect 20 dollar gold pieces than 50 dollar bills."

In addition to the U. S. and Canadian series of coins and paper money, this book also prices: colonial and early American coins, Confederate states paper money, and pioneer gold coins. The book sells for $1.75.

Cleveland To Include 3 Part Sale

A three session auction conducted by James Kelly, World Numismatics, Inc., Dayton, Ohio, will be featured during the North East Ohio Coin Club's Numismatic show in Cleveland July 22-24.

The show will be held in the Tudor Arms Hotel, 10660 Carnegie avenue. The first two sessions of the auction will be open to the public while the third session will be by mail bidding only.

Contained in the first session, 7:30 p.m. Friday, will be mostly U. S. with rolls and single items. Canadian items will also be featured in this session.

A large number of half dollars, a few gold pieces, minor coins and a few notes will be auctioned during the second session, 1 p.m. Saturday. Mail bids for the third session, coins of the world, will be accepted until noon Tuesday, July 26, 1960, Kelly said.

Program for the convention begins at 9 a.m., Friday, with registration, placing of exhibits and the opening of bourse which will remain open until 11 p.m. At 7:30 p.m. that day the women will be entertained with games.

Saturday's activities begin at 9 a.m. with bourse, exhibits and will be followed by a luncheon and entertainment for the women, however, reservations for this activity must be made in advance. At 5:30 p.m., the bourse closes followed by a cocktail hour and buffet dinner in the Tudor room. It will reopen at approximately 7 p.m.

The registration desk, bourse and exhibit will open at 9 a.m. Sunday and will close at 5 p.m., the end of the show.

Coins Bear Two Types Of Designs

There are two types of designs stamped upon coins — relief or incuse.

The relief design is raised above the surface of the coin, the incuse design is below the surface.

Obverse and reverse are the terms used to describe the two sides of a coin. The side bearing the main design or the "head" side is the obverse. The "tail" side which includes the coin's value, is the reverse.

The parallel lines that run across the edge from obverse to reverse is called reeding.

The system of reeding was developed early in coinage history to thwart shady "metal grabbers" who would trim the edges of the coin for metal shavings.

American Indians used small copper kettles as a standard medium of exchange payable in furs.

Canadian Association Convention Plans Fall Into Final Go Round

"Terrific," "outstanding" and "finest in history" are phrases issued forth to describe the 1960 Canadian Numismatic Association convention as officials work long hours making final preparations for the seventh annual conclave at Sherbrooke, Quebec, August 18, 19 and 30.

"We are sparing no efforts in our planning for your enjoyment," said Eddy Echenberg, president of the Sherbrooke Coin Club, the host organization.

"Displays promise to be outstanding with every field of numismatics represented," commented Hartley F. Graham, general chairman of the convention.

"Bourse space has been almost completely reserved," he continued, "with the list including most prominent Canadian dealers, many from America and Seaby's from England."

Officials announced today they are making arrangements with Brink's to have an armored car with three armed guards to pick up dealers' suit cases every night after bourse closes and deliver them each morning before it opens, all at the host club's expense. These will be stored in vaults and completely insured. This will be in place of a security room.

A complete program, as outlined by Echenberg, is as follows:

But he didn't live to collect the $97 the horse paid!

As the overjoyed Natkeel prepared to collect after his 48-to-1 horse came in, he slumped to the floor, collapsed and died.

Mind Your Business

The fugio cent of 1787, bearing the motto "Mind Your Business," was often called the Franklin cent. The reason for this being, "Mind Your Business" was a favorite expression used by Benjamin Franklin.

Schulman Reports

Common Coins Becoming Scarcer Than Rare Ones

By H. M. F. Schulman

Never realized how scarce coins have become. Nowhere is this to be noticed more than in Europe. Common coins have become even scarcer with rare coins to be located only by the very ardent "searcher."

In an earlier article I explained that it is not investment buying which has increased the value of coins, it is clearly the prosperity among the so much larger group of coin collectors.

Coin collectors have formed clubs and societies like in the U.S. A. and the many new books have helped the coin collector. Yeoman, Davenport and Friedberg are today those who have contributed more to rendering collecting popular than any other persons. Shouldn't we be proud that these three gentlemen are Americans?

Gold coins in many instances are reaching or surpassing the Friedberg values and almost all silver dollars have surpassed the Davenport values.

The professional numismatist has today a much more difficult job than before and this statement is strange in view of the ever increasing numismatic activity. He has today a competition for success hitherto unknown in the numismatic field. This applies to Europe and not to the U.S.A.

The professional numismatist—commonly called "the coin dealer"—finds strong competition from the powerful banks dealing not only in common gold, but in rare gold also and from the manufacturer of gold medals which are put on the market as "private coins" and not as medals which they really are.

Thirdly, he finds a great competition from the counterfeiters who have been luring the collectors all over the world by their low prices for such great rarities as ancient Greek coins, large modern gold, silver dollars of the world, U. S. $1 and $2½ gold pieces, Roman aurei, etc. etc.

The coin dealer in the U.S.A. is much more fortunate and he only has to worry about finding merchandise. His organization, the P.N.G. (Professional Numismatists Guild), protects him strongly through his able president, Sol Kaplan.

Paris is always buzzing with foreign numismatic visitors. Bill Sonner was walking around with his charming wife Hilda and such outstanding collectors in oriental numismatics as Professor Paul Balog and Theodore Horowitz were checking the undescribed specimens in the dealers stocks.

Mr. Werkner from the Austrian Tyrol was looking for hidden 10 ducat pieces. Frank Liveright from New Jersey found some rare cents of his state.

My prediction for foreign gold is that the next popular series will be the still unpopular oriental gold coins. Their rather difficult attribution and monotony of type have long made them the best buy of all the foreign gold.

Now we are on the eve of Prof. Balog's important publication to be issued by the American Numismatic Society and the doors of the oriental numismatic fairyland will open to the general collector. New books are the doors to the secrets and charms of coin collecting.

Prices obtained for some recent coins are:

Dansig 25 gulden 1930, over $1-000; 10 ducat 1628 Salzburg, $700; Panama-Pacific set $4,400 — this may seem low to Harvey Stack but for Europe this is a high price for a U. S. item.

This column will be pleased to answer any questions on the European coin market. Send your questions to the Coin World office.

Counterfeit 1856 Flying Eagle Cent

Genuine 1856 Flying Eagle Cent

The counterfeit 1856 flying eagle cent pictured at the top of the page is one of six sold during May in the Miami, Fla., area, according to U. E. Baughman, Chief of the U. S. Secret Service, Washington, D. C. Chief Baughman stated "the transactions were determined to have been made without fraudulent intent and restitution was made to the buyers". The coins had been purchased from an unidentified "Latin" in the belief that they were genuine, he said. For purposes of comparison, a genuine 1856 flying eagle is pictured below. Note the lettering and heading around the edge of the coin. The counterfeit photo is through the courtesy of the U. S. Secret Service. The genuine photo is courtesy Jim Kelly.

Danville, Ind., Collector Finds Early College Bookkeeping Bill

An amateur numismatist from Danville, Ind., Harve Ellis, recently found an interesting piece of currency while visiting a bank on a recent trip.

After checking silver coins — his usual practice — the banker showed Ellis a bookkeeping department $100 bill from the former Central Normal college at Danville.

T. Eddingfield, Principal Commercial Department, and Mrs. F. P. Adams, president, Danville, Indiana. It also bears the name of the college.

According to Ellis, the bill is from the early Danville college days and is in "an excellent state of preservation."

Although Ellis usually collects silver coins, he plans to keep it among his souvenirs.

Inscription on the bill read "W.

Why Collect?

As my wife picked up my copy of True magazine and she saw the stare I gave her, she tossed at me a copy of the July Mademoiselle. "Here," she said, "this contains a story on collecting!"

Indeed it did, as I began reading "The Collecting Rage" by Leo Lerman. If you can overlook the fact that 1500 words are contained in only three paragraphs, you should read this article.

Dick Johnson

The message sums up the great big "why" behind collecting today—collecting anything. After stating that dealers business is brisk (nothing new to coin dealers!), buying and selling is rampant coast to coast, the author asks, "Why is all this?" Let me quote his excellent answer:

"Basically because we live in the most impermanent of worlds. Great eras of collecting occur almost always when life is insecure, when people are grasping at or seeking roots. We collect also for remembrance of things past, not only our own pasts but the historical past.

"We collect to escape our everyday selves and, conversely, we collect to enhance ourselves . . . Collecting moves us effortlessly in time, in space, so we collect out of nostalgia or to touch greatness. Some of us collect out of snobbism, as a form of status-seeking."

How much of this you wish to apply to coin collecting is your choice, but the analogy is present. My good dealer friend in St. Louis, Art Kelley, once said the appeal of coins is due to their size. An entire collection of the art treasures of the ages—in miniature—can be kept in the smallest space in a collector's home.

Maybe we don't even recognize the underlying reasons why we collect coins. Here is an example of the desire for better condition coins, from Friedberg's new book, "Appraising and Selling Your Coins":

"In this respect a new coin can be likened to a beautiful woman in the full bloom of her youth—lustrous, desirable and admired by all; but as she circulates through the days and years of her life, subtle changes occur in her appearance and after a certain length of time she bears little resemblance to the thing she once was; only her identity is the same; but if only she were the Sleeping Beauty of the fable, she would be found one hundred years later, still lustrous, desirable and admired by all."

The appeal of collecting is widespread. Every collector would give a different reason when asked, "why do you collect coins?" The answer may embrace the terms used by the writers I have quoted, beauty, insecurity, history, nostalgia, snobishness; or an entire different language.

We collect for a reason—which separates collectors from pack rats who like bright, shiny objects.

For those people whose only reason is profit: if you will stop and look at the coins that pass through your hands. Study your coins more. Look into their history. You will find another reason for liking coins: enjoyment!

Observance Includes Display Of Collection

In observance of the Union Bank and Trust Company's 30th anniversary observance in Kokomo, Ind., a collection of coins was displayed. The observance also included tours through the various departments.

Mo. Youth Finds Key Lincoln Cent

A Kahoka, Mo., youth, Hollis (Butch) Davidson, recently found a key cent, the 1909-SVDB. However, Butch, made the mistake of trying to clean the coin—detracting several dollars from its value.

Letters To The Editor

With all the articles and various ads being published in connection with how hard it is to sell proof sets once the brown shipping envelope has been opened, I would like to ask these people who so advertise how it is possible now with the 1960 proof sets to tell if you're getting a small date or a large date proof set?

Certainly, if I were buying a small-date proof set, I would open it the first thing to be sure it was what I was buying—nobody can tell me that it would be very difficult to re-sell it merely because I looked to see if I got what I bought. Would anyone buy a small-date proof set 1960 from me without opening it—in fact, I could not even guarantee it was such a thing if I hadn't opened it in the first place!

This seems to me to be utter nonsense. Not only that, but the fellow who buys one or two sets directly from the mint, has his brown shipping envelope addressed and postmarked—does this mean he can't re-sell it easily because of this?

If this silly stuff keeps up, then pretty soon we won't even be able to open up the cardboard cartons in which the proof sets are shipped in quantity.

Max Putz Jr.

I ordered an 1871 VG Indian cent as advertised in a coin journal (not yours). Upon receiving the coin I noticed that not a single bit of detail was present, not so much as one letter of the Liberty on the headband! You have probably heard of quite a few dealers overgrading their coins.

The real shock was after examination, when I found it to be an 1874 altered to an 1871. My only comment is that it is bad enough getting overgraded coins, but when they have to overgrade altered dates, I have had it!

The new A.N.A. directory is certainly a disgrace to the Association. Can you imagine handling this ignominious thing to someone and saying: "This is the membership directory of our Association." Its only merit is that it complies with the by-laws. How many people would gladly pay a dollar every year to get a decent directory? I would.

Your Coin World continues to publish the news about coin collecting before most of your competitors. Your rapid growth shows that coin collectors will buy when you give them what they want and need in a better way.

After reading your Vacation Edition (June 23rd issue) showing where coin collections are on permanent display, I figured it would be nice to have this information in one small size pocket edition which you could offer free—with a new subscription to Coin World! It should be a natural in the future!

Philadelphia Men On Trial In Allentown Collection Theft

Four Philadelphia men are on trial for the theft of a coin collection and various items July 1 or 2, 1959, from the home of Dr. Kermit K. Kistler, 9 Lehigh Parkway North, Allentown, Pa.

Theft of the physician's collection took place last year while the family was on vacation. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert A. Gift, was making daily visits to the residence during their absence. July 2, she found signs of forcible entry on a door and window. Upon entering, she found the house had been ransacked.

The four men, James John Lavery, 27; Hugh Francis Breslin, 26; Edward Burkowski, 33; and Harry Barrett Stocker, 33 are charged with burglary, larceny and receiving.

The trial is being heard by Judge Kenneth H. Koch and is expected to last several days.

The collection, 15 to 20 silver dollars and a star sapphire ring were said to be missing by Dr. Kistler. The unusual ring from Ceylon is the key exhibit linking the four with the crime.

Pickup of the four defendants was made when police became suspicious of their automobile as they were parked at a motel. They entered the two rooms occupied by the men. They found 84 silver dollars, two piles of currency with $314 in one stack and $668 in another, and the ring.

Atty. Charles M. Bolich purchased the ring in Kandy, Ceylon, in 1959 and presented it to Dr. Kistler as a gift. Both Bolich and Dr. Kistler have identified the ring.

Article Features Bozard

B. W. Bozard, Orangeburg, S. C., collector, was the subject of a recent feature in the Columbia, S. C., Record.

Although he started collecting in grammar school in Cameron, S. C., with a $500 Confederate bond and some Confederate money, he became a serious collector in 1953.

"Before that I just picked up things wherever I happened to find them without any system," he said.

Now he attends auctions, maintains contact with coin dealers and always looks for something his wide variety of coins and bills is lacking.

His collection of large currency

The U. S. silver dollar sometimes is referred to in slang as a buzzard because of the buzzard-like eagle pictured on the reverse.

issued prior to 1929 includes money issued by the Edisto National Bank and the Orangeburg National Bank.

Ferndale Club Plans Exhibition

Ferndale (Calif.) Stamp and Hobby Club will hold their third annual exhibition of coins, stamps and other hobbies August 15-21 at the 60th annual Humboldt County Fair in Ferndale.

A free foreign coin is being offered, if requested, with the purchase of each cacheted cover from the club at 15 cents each or two for 25 cents postpaid.

The cachet will be the second in a series of landmarks of Humboldt County and will show the old Carson mansion of Eureka, Calif. Last year's covers are also available for the same price as above.

A souvenir wooden nickel of the Logger's Fun Days in June will be substituted for the foreign coin if requested.

The term bone was often associated with the U. S. silver dollar and later to a dollar of either paper or metal.

Coin Theft Suspect Held

The search of a burglary suspect's pockets in Wichita, Kan., helped to clear up a recent coin burglary in addition to several others.

Coins found in the suspect's pockets allegedly were taken from Tommy's Coin Supply, 1607 East Second, Wichita.

Being held on state burglary warrants are Robert Early, 22, whose pockets contained the coins, and Charles Shepherd, 20, both of 225 Indiana, Wichita.

During questioning, the two admitted a number of other burglaries in the area.

Bank Displays Gold

An exhibit of United States gold coins from the Chase Manhattan Bank Museum of Monies of the World, New York, N. Y., was recently on display at the Franklin Grove (Ill.) bank.

The display consists of the principal types of gold coins from 1795 to 1933.

Silver Coins Provide Clue To Jewish History

A trio of rare extant Hebrew silver coins gives a clue to a heretofore clouded period of Jewish history, although some numismatists are of the opinion that the coins might not be genuine.

The three coins are believed to have been struck in the fourth century, B. C. and two of them bear Aramaic inscriptions. The other is inscribed with Hebrew.

It is theorized that high priests of the little Judean state were allowed the privilege of taxation and of coinage under the Persian rule.

John Hyrcanus (135-104 B. C.) and not his father, Simon, it is believed, began the issuance of bronze coinage during the Maccabean period in a brief Jewish independent period in the second century B. C.

An interesting series of Jewish coins were found at Beth-el, a site mentioned in the Bible almost as much as Jerusalem. Dates on these coins range from 143 B. C. to 68 A. D.

The Jewish people—fearful of violating the second commandment—did not relish coin-making and hesitated to stamp the images of animals or men on their money.

Jewish Shekel

No Jewish coins were believed issued after the fall of Jerusalem in 70 A. D. and there were never any Hebrew coins in gold.

Coinage centers were believed to have been at Joppa; Syrian Antioch and Sepphoris in Galilee.

Small Date Cent 'Derby' Holds Interest

Interest and speculation on the Small Date Cent "derby" is rapidly reaching a fever pitch. An outstanding favorite is the "Filly" Small Date and the bookmakers are offering quite a range of high odds — anywhere from $30.00 to $60.00, with indications that they will go considerably higher.

The lightly regarded western entry, the Denver Small Date, is picking up increased interest and while the odds have dropped from the original quotations, the price is fairly firm at $5.00 to $7.50.

The real class in the race is another "Filly"—the Proof Small Date Cent. Based on the difference in price between the two types of 1960 Proof Sets, the value on this yearling alone is from $10.00 to $20.00 each.

Regardless of the winner, the activity and interest in these highly speculative Cents has been a shot in the arm to the entire coin investment field, increasing the demand and steadying a slightly depressed summer market.

Another interesting thing has been noticed since the advent of the Large and Small Dates of 1960, and that is the interest in other previously neglected mint varieties. There has been an increased demand for the 1945 San Francisco Dime with small mint marks, the 1941 Proof Half Dollar without engraver's initial W, and the 1905 New Orleans Dime with small "O".

These have always been scarce but never in demand. Never more appropriate is the old cliché — you don't have to be a crazy to be a collector, but at times it helps!

In all seriousness, some of the Small Date Cents are quite scarce and will possibly become rare. However, I do believe a little caution should be used before going completely berserk and paying excessively high prices for them. Along this same line it might be in order to mention the fact that the high price on the 1960-P Nickel and Dime is based on the assumption that few if any more will be struck this year.

I have no definite information on this subject but by logic and past experience, chances are better than ever that there will be more of both 1960 Nickels and Dimes struck at Philadelphia before the end of the year.

We will be conducting the auction sale at the Cleveland Convention this week end and shall look forward to meeting a great many friends and Coin World readers.

Archaeologist, Collector Prove Greatest Of Friends

The archaeologist is one of the greatest friends of the coin collector as he brings to light vast hoards — especially in the areas of ancient Rome and Greece.

Among the three greatest discoveries were the Epidaurus silver hoard, the Roman find at Bosco Reale and the five Greek bronze hoards buried in c.280 B. C.

One Greek cache of 677 coins was believed to have been concealed on an island off Prevesa soon after the collapse of Achaean autonomy after the Roman invasion of 146 B. C.

The find included a coin of Atlanta wearing a beret that resembles the modern-looking Greek causia, others showed the winged Pegasus and Athena and her wise owl from Corinth and Athens.

Twenty two members of the Achaean league and Peloponnesian cities of the third and second centuries B. C. were represented in the currency; historians could establish from the coin dates when the Greek city-units affiliated with the league.

The Roman find at Bosco Reale included some 1,000 Roman aurei and well-worn issues from Augustus to Vespasian.

Ancient financiers who fled before invasion of their enemy often took to the "underground" bank for the protection of their money; it was safe alright, much to the appreciation of the modern-day coin collector!

"CCC"--MAGIC COIN CLEANER

"CCC" is used by thousands of dealers and collectors to improve the appearance and enhance the value of coins which are FINE to UNCIRCULATED, particularly coins of copper or nickel. "CCC" also has other important though lesser known uses. Read the following interesting, unsolicited testimonial (one of dozens in our files):

"I am sure you will be interested in learning that I recently attempted the restoration of a batch of Flying Eagle cents which had been badly burned in a fire over 70 years ago. I used 'CCC' and the results were amazing!"

"Five came out EXTRA FINE, three VERY FINE, and all the rest except one are now good to fine. The lone exception proved to have lost its lettering in the fire but the bird retained nearly all of its features."

"Each coin proved to be an individual problem and some had to be soaked in 'CCC' overnight for many nights before the residue was loosened. A soft toothbrush was used to brush in baking soda between soakings."

"I firmly believe that burn't coins represent the stiffest challenge any coin cleaner can face. 'CCC' faced up to my problem - and won!"

"CCC" is easy to buy and easy to use. It is inexpensive (one bottle cleans hundreds of coins) and fast acting (cleans in seconds). Get the 4-oz. bottle from your dealer for $1.00 or send us a dollar for a 3-oz. bottle carefully packed and postpaid in the U.S. or Canada.

Dealers may send us $4.00 for a trial lot of six 4-oz. bottles postpaid in the U.S., or obtain larger supplies from jobbers.

U.S. Coins Criticized While A Young Country

Numismatic's first angry man in the history of United States coinage was a one Carlisle Polleck of New York who wrote a blistering letter to General Williams, of Salem, N. Y., about the coins of the infant nation.

"Oh, shame, shame, shame!" scolded the sputtering Mr. Polleck.

"I have seen all of the coins already issued and nothing can be more wretched!"

Then he proceeded to berate the "unmeaning fool's head on one side and something that resembles a turkey cock on the other!"

"The eagle of America mantling the arms of the United States, as you see it on the city hall, would have been a dignified impression, and on the other side, if the president's head should be too aristocratic, a plough and a sheaf of wheat would be better than an idiot's head with flowing hair which was meant to denote Liberty, but which the world will suppose was intended to designate the head of an Indian squaw."

"But Heaven forbid that future ages should judge the taste and talents of the present citizens of America by so mean and pitiful a sample of their work," snapped Mr. Polleck.

"The pride of country, I must confess, would have been gratified had I seen a full, goodly, respectable coin issued from our mint even if we had incurred some loss in the doing of it," concluded Citizen Polleck.

Oban Story Carries Wrong Coin Illustration

Two weeks ago Coin World ran a story about Japanese gold obans. Inadvertently an illustration of a tempo coin was used. Letters from keen eyed readers poured in. Here are two of the most outstanding.

This coin derives its name from the top two characters on the side (obverse) you have pictured. Ten(m)po designates the era of the "protection of heaven" 1835-1854, the nearest thing to a date on the old Japanese coinage.

Oban means "large size" gold and represented a coin varying from six to seven inches long and half as wide, of oval shape, about 3/16 inch thick, perhaps less.

Oban Story

Within the four circular stamps, two on the end, two on the sides, is a device called "kirimon," consisting of three leaves with two short and one long flower spike of the "paulonia (dryandra) imperialis" commonly called the empress tree in America. This represents the spiritual leadership of the emperor.

The "flutengo" called "tsuchi me" (hammer marks), are a device to prevent counterfeiting and are in seven staggered rows down the length of the coin (obverse).

Over this in script is written, in Chinese ink with a brush, four characters and a large character-like symbol below.

The top two read: "ju" (ten) "ryo," (the denomination) Below are: "gato," the family name of the hereditary mintmasters. The large symbol below is the "kaki-han" (written seal) or "hanaoshi" (flower sign) — a sort of appendage to the signature.

The reverse is very plain except for two different "krimon" and a "kyoku in" (certification stamp) down the center line and at the lower left identification stamps of the individual workmen making each piece. They were all hand made.

Youngstown Hobby Show Program Includes Coin Talk

Coin collecting — currently riding high in popularity — is occupying a prominent place in the plans for an all hobby convention in Youngstown, Ohio, next week.

The twelfth annual Allstates National Hobby convention, show and sale will take place at the Hotel Pick-Ohio, July 29 through 31.

Coin collectors will be entertained Friday evening when Glenn Marsh will talk on money. He will illustrate his lecture with an exhibit of coins, currency and items of barter used throughout the ages.

Marsh is an enthusiastic numismatist and his collection contains excellent examples of odd and curious, and freak coins and paper money of the world.

Marsh's display includes a Greek tetradrachm of Alexander the Great, first coin to have a portrait; a tribute penny, and a Roman denarius of Constantine the Great. His odd and curious items include wife money from Africa, knife money of China, Aztec money, a genuine leather note printed in the U. S., and the smallest gold and silver coin of the world.

Paper money collectors will be able to view his uncut sheet of $6, $7, $8 and $9 notes, freak notes, and a display of fractional currency.

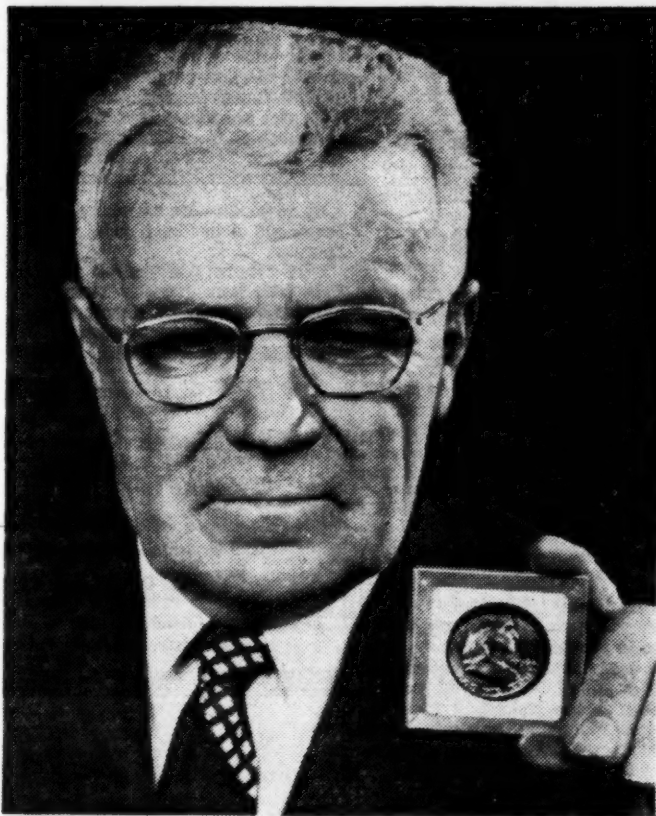

"Money," Marsh says, "is the most interesting thing on earth, next to man. Man has lived for, lied for, fought for, and died for money; some people even work for it."

"It has turned the tide of wars and directed the destinies of nations. Money has bribed men in high office and has inspired the most gigantic swindles."

In addition to Marsh's coin talk Friday evening, a coin auction conducted by Homer Swanson, Pa., will be held at 1 p.m., Saturday in the Fraternity ballroom in the Pick-Ohio.

Exhibitions and bourse will be open to collectors from noon until 11 p.m. each day of the convention except Sunday when the exhibition opens at 11 a.m.

For numismatists interested in other hobbies, this convention offers a wide range of activities beginning with a parade of antique automobiles and floats Friday evening and ending with the hobby lobby supper Sunday evening.

Lecturer Glen Marsh, shown here with a coin from his collection, a 50 cent piece struck on a quarter planchet, will be the featured speaker at the Allstates National Hobby Convention. Marsh will talk Friday evening, July 29, at the Youngstown, Ohio, hobby conclave. His extensive collection containing odd and curious money and freaks on coins and paper money will be on exhibit. He appeared on television in the Youngstown area, July 10, publicizing the convention.

Mrs. Ruth Hammell, well known in numismatic circles, will give a talk of interest to ladies Saturday at 2 p.m. Mrs. Hammell, who operates the Korner Kupperboard Antique Shop will talk on "Influence of Color When Decorating."

Hobbies to be represented, other than coins include post cards, gems, flower arrangements, shells and jewelry, dolls, buttons, weaving, guns, and stamps.

Iron hoe money was a standard media of exchange along the White Nile river. The hoe money was made in Khartoum, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

New Calif. Club Elects Don Hill

Don Hill is president of the newly organized Northbay Coin Club of Richmond, Calif.

The next meeting of the club will be held July 26 at the Hawaiian Room, Richmond Civic auditorium on Nevin St. in Richmond. The club will meet the second and fourth Tuesdays.

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted R. Hammer

If politics makes strange bed-fellows, the hobby of coin collecting can match it.

It's seldom that a banker will collect coins—perhaps because he wants something else to think about after dealing with money, interest, notes, and the like all day.

A large number of the most ardent students of collecting come from such professional ranks as physicians, engineers, accountants and teachers. Biggest single category is comprised of housewives and that's a development of the past few years.

A veteran storekeeper may toss aside all old, unusual or foreign coins that come his way. But it's unusual if this causes him to become an ardent student of the science of money.

Farran Zerbe, late president of the American Numismatic Assn., and who became its historian, was a true student. He was a newsboy in New York when he took up coin collecting.

A customer handed Zerbe a foreign coin, which the newsy didn't notice until toting up his day's take. He took the coin to a bank next day, found it was a foreign piece and kept it. This led him to study coins and to become a collector.

He grew up to assemble one of the biggest and most interesting private collections of our time. It ultimately was purchased by the Chase National Bank and was the foundation on which the bank's now famous collection was built.

Dr. J. Hewitt Judd, Omaha eye disease specialist, became a specialist in another field. Almost from the beginning the U. S. mint had issued what officials called patterns of proposed coins. Sometimes such patterns were adopted for regular issue but more often they were not.

A pattern might be of aluminum or of lead—a cent pattern might be made of gold or silver; a pattern for a gold coin might be made of silver or nickel.

Another past president of the A.N.A., Dr. Judd now has assembled information gathered over the years into a comprehensive book, "United States Pattern, Experimental and Trial Pieces." An exhaustive work, it fills a long felt need for a fine book on this subject, although few collectors specialize in this field.

A. F. Andersen Wins Top San Diego Co. Fair Award

A. F. Andersen was named best in show winner of the senior division of the numismatic display at the Southern California Exposition and San Diego County Fair at Del Mar, Calif., recently.

Diego County Inter-Club Numismatic Council, sponsors of the event. Francis S. Jones was chairman.

Andersen's display consisted of coins and currency of the Philippine Islands while they were a possession of the United States.

Winning the best in show ribbon of the junior division was Mount Miguel High School Numismatic Club. The display showed various U. S. coins, proof sets and a group of the smallest coins of the world titled "Micro-Numismatics."

Paul Hamm was presented the Elise Wallace Memorial trophy for his three displays of so-called dollars, medal and proof sets with portraits of his grandchildren.

Winners are:

Senior Division: A. F. Andersen, two firsts, special and second; Astronautics Coiners, third; Vince Bacon, special and first; Convair Coin Club, third; Robert Gee Estelle, special, five firsts and second; Joseph J. 70 Attend Wayne Co. Club Banquet

Approximately 70 members and guests of the Wayne County (Ohio) Coin Club met recently for a banquet observing the 100th meeting of the club.

Following the banquet, Edwin Johnson, first president of the organization, spoke on numismatics as a hobby and Mrs. Johnson gave a brief history of the club.

Early days and growth of the club to its present status was discussed by Zody Miller.

Wiley Miller, a charter member, told of the value of hobbies as an avocation. He stated, coin collecting and study goes as far back as recorded history, and the hobby of numismatics is better than vitamins for retaining an interested outlook on life.

Achievements of the club, including the annual picnic and Christmas party, especially the work of organizing the Quad City Coin Clubs were listed by Ernest Spigelmire.

The club was organized in 1950 with a charter membership of 13 and now has a membership of 60 persons.

Coinage Reflects Venice Heritage

Fascinating coinage almost always belongs to a fascinating country or city—and the sequins and crowns and ducats of Venice—once known as the mistress of the sea—prove this theory!

Venice, tourist attraction—supreme with its gondolas, its romantic history, and its rich religious significance, reflects this heritage in coinage.

The earliest Venetians were great traders, and exchanged European products for those of the east. In 542 A. D. the Huns invaded and drove the natives into the swamps on which Venice now stands.

By 697 this settlement, already powerful through commerce and republican in government, gave its chief magistrate the powers of a dictator and the title of doge or dux (duke.)

In 829, the body of St. Mark was brought to Venice; the city immediately placed itself under the saint's protection.

Venice ruled the seas until 1486

Chicago Trade Fair Displays Coins, Currency

There were some points of interest to numismatists in the mile-long display of exhibits at the 1960 International Trade Fair in Chicago, according to Donn Allan Pearlman, Skokie, Ill.

The largest exhibit was that of the First National Bank of Chicago, according to Pearlman.

This included more than 225 coins from 175 different countries and 40 pieces of crisp currency, some of it more than 150 years old.

The coins were from ancient countries that no longer exist such as Serbia, etc., and from some of the more modern nations of the world.

"Average condition of the coins was fine to very fine," said reader Pearlman. He said the metals of the coins ranged from silver, bronze, platinum, copper and gold. Most of them were of high denominations, he said.

"I could not find out the actual value of the coins," he said, "but my guess would be from $700 to $1,000. But with today's rapidly changing prices, your guess would be as good as mine!"

Israel had a selection of commemoratives and regular issues including two proof coins, contained in beautiful olive wood hand-carved boxes, Pearlman described.

A 1958 Ghana proof set and a few commemoratives were included in this country's display.

New Ind. Club Meets

The new Central Indiana Collectors' Club meets the third Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p. m. in the Firestone Cafeteria, Noblesville, Ind.

Coins of the English Commonwealth from 1648-1660 acquired the nickname breeches money because of the design on the obverse. The design of two elongated shields resembled a pair of trousers.

Crown of Ludovicus Manin, Last Doge

when the Portuguese rounded the cape of Good Hope and secured the eastern trade. Maritime activity among the western European nations and the discovery of America ended the Venetian prestige.

The reigning doge is usually found on the obverse of the gold sequins and ducats or silver crowns of Venice; on the reverse some religious devices connected with St. Mark are found. Some reverses bear the national arms, a winged lion with or without a book, the ecclesiastical symbol of the saint.

In 1797, Napoleon Bonaparte took possession of Venice and annexed it to Austria. In 1806 the territory was joined to Napoleon's Italian kingdom. When Napoleon was overthrown, Venice went back to Austria and joined to Lombardy as one of the Austrian crown lands. In 1859 it was separated, still subject to Austria, but in 1866 it was ceded to the present Italy.

Long Beach Club Hears Cy. Phillips

"Historical 'Background of American Coinage' was discussed July 5 by Cyrus E. Phillips Club's 10th anniversary meeting.

Phillips spoke and showed slides of coins from the 1652 Massachusetts pine tree shilling to the current silver dollars. He also discussed currency from shipplasters to the $10,000 bills now used by the Federal Reserve Bank.

A report on the club's display for the International Beauty Congress in August and the new Lakewood Numismatic Society was given by Alice Brightenburgh.

Ida Mae Griffin informed the members that coins to be given to the museum are about ready for presentation. A brief auction followed.

Quills of the cassowari bird strung with pearl shells and cocoa discs were used as money in the South Seas.

Greensburg Coin Club Plans Blackboard Auction

Forty bourse tables are now on sale for the Greensburg (Pa.) Coin Club's first all-day coin show, bourse and blackboard auction to be held at the Mountainview Hotel, Route 30 East, Greensburg, September 25.

Joseph B. Breyer and Ernest E. Lindh are co-chairmen of the event.

Dale D. Porter, 27 North Maple Ave., Greensburg, is accepting reservations for the tables from dealers and collectors. Cost is $6 for an eight-foot table or $3 for a half-table.

Harrold M. Boyd, exhibit chairman, said no display cases will be available. Prizes will be awarded for the most interesting exhibits.

Five per cent commission will be charged. Lists of auction material in triplicate are to be in hands of the auction committee by August 25. Miller's address is 517 S. 5th St., Youngwood, Pa.

No registration fee or admission charge will be made. Virginia A. Lindh, secretary of the club, pointed

A uniformed police officer is to be on duty throughout the day and evening.

Boyd is president of the club; Lucy Kelly, vice president; Mrs. Lindh and Porter, secretaries; Miller, treasurer.

Map Shows Gold Cache!

Anybody for $180,000 in United States gold coins minted about 1868?

Paul L. Atkinson, of Covington, Ky., has informed Coin World of this cache — and he even sent the map with its location!

Complete details of the $180,000 which is supposedly lying 90 feet down in water and mud on the gulf side of Matagorda Bay, midway between Corpus Christi and Galveston, Texas, are to be found in the summer, 1960, edition of Frontier Times.

A young sailor and a strong box with $180,000 in gold coins disappeared simultaneously in the late 1880's from aboard the British freighter, South Wind, according to the story.

Because of adverse publicity, the cache was soon reputed to be a fake promotional scheme and it faded from public notice.

But if any numismatists want to turn into treasure-seekers full details are included in the Frontier Times, published by Western Publications, 709 West 19th street, Austin, 31, Texas.

The Official PONY EXPRESS CENTENNIAL MEDAL

This Bronze Medal commemorates the Centennial of the famed Pony Express. It was authorized by Public Law 86-394 86th Congress, S.2454, March 18, 1960. The medal will be placed on sale July 1, 1960.

It is illustrated above* and will be 1-5/16". It comes attractively packed in a soft plastic transparent folder, in an individually printed envelope. A printed leaflet of historical data also accompanies each medal. The medal will be executed by the United States Mint at Philadelphia.

The sculptured heads of Russell, Majors and Waddell, the founders and operators of the historic Pony Express, will appear on one side and on the other side is the famous Hansen Pony Express horse and rider.

The Pony Express was organized without a subsidy at a time of great national peril. It was, for a time, the only means of communication with California except by sea and was instrumental in holding California to the Union. The Pony Express has become famous throughout the world as the most dramatic expression of American pioneering courage. It will live forever in the hearts of all Americans, young and old.

The electrum stater replica is shown above with the coins, 270 B. C., pictured below. It bears the goddess of fertility and love and a horse beneath sun serpents.

Coins Of Carthage Highlight Bank Decor

Ancient Carthage, home of Hannibal the Great, founded by the progressive Phoenicians, destroyed by the aggressive Romans, has been revered by the artistic Americans . . .

Replicas of six Carthaginian coins used in the days before Christ, each weighing one-fourth ton, have been frozen in marble to adorn the south wall of the new Bank of Carthage building in Carthage, Missouri.

Senor Picinni, one of the Italian craftsmen who prepared the Carthage coins, is putting artistic touches on a clay model of the silver stater. Much care was taken by Senor Picinni in preparing these models for the final product, the one-fourth ton replica.

Sicilian coin of around 350 B. C.

Replica of a silver stater

Professor Ciardelli uses power equipment in the refinement of one of the marble coins before it was shipped to Carthage. The professor teaches at Carrara, Italy's Art School of Marble. Many Italian craftsmen's talents were put to work on the replica.

Hanging the 500 pound coin replica are three workmen from the Carthage Marble Corporation, Carthage, Mo., who arranged for the work in Italy.

The idea of incorporating facsimiles of the ancient coins into the building design of the building—a numismatist's dream—was originated by the architect and bank officials.

They turned to the Carthage, (Mo.) Marble Corporation for consultation—they in turn arranged liaison details with the Carrara, Italy, marble works.

Artistic talents of Italian craftsmen were put to work, but first research was necessary to locate actual coins to be used as models. In one case only one coin was found—a slightly damaged specimen in the Museum of Archeology at Siracusa, Sicily.

From it the producers were allowed to make a plaster mold from which the clay model was made.

After clay models of the six coins were made and approved, the coin design was transposed to rough marble and sculptured by a combination of hand work and power equipment.

Some of the fittings for the air hammer used in the production of the replicas were designed for rough cutting; others were for fine finish work.

Each of the marble "coins" are three feet, six inches in diameter. They were four inches thick. The marble used is Aurisina Chiara, quarried near Trieste. It is quite similar in color to Missouri's Carthage marble.

After the painstaking crating and shipping processes, the masterpieces reached Carthage, Mo., safely, and were placed with the Carthage Marble officials for installation.

The bank structure was completed in March of this year with appropriate ceremonies. Officials, headed by M. H. Anderson, the president, have arranged for brochures containing the story of the coins to be distributed to bank customers.

This includes the background of ancient Carthage with its romantic era of colonization, commerce, adventure, war and eventual destruction.

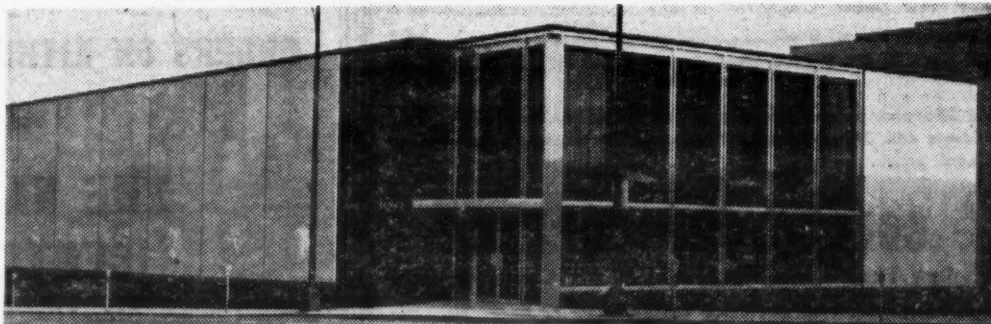

It was founded by the Tyrians about 814 B. C., and destroyed by the Romans in 146 B. C. It was the richest of the Phoenicians colonies.

The Phoenicians, of course, were famous for their phenomenal skills in seafaring, trading and development of an alphabet. In those days north Africa was fertile farmland with rich fields, gardens, orchards and vineyards.

The Carthaginians sailed through the pillars of Hercules (straits of Gibraltar) and along the Atlantic coasts of Europe and Africa. They traded inland for elephants, slaves and precious metals. As they conquered islands and coasts they extracted fabulous tributes.

The ancient city of Carthage had a population of 250,000. It had 220 magnificent docks, impressive temples, stunning public buildings including a treasury and a mint.

They based their coinage on Greek models. They also used leather strips with various denominations stamped on them, said to be the forerunners of paper money.

1955-P Lincoln BU
Cracked Skull

I have only 12 like this, very rare.
Crack appears like a cracked bone coming thru the head of Lincoln, showing three distinct lines, horizontally curved. These are far greater than the hairline variety found in many die breaks.

Even the 1955's of the date appear to be shifted.

On the same coin is another crack die break along the lower part of the bust extending from the shoulder to the breast.

Many collectors believe this to be rarer than the shifted 1955-P cent now selling for as much as $100.00 each.

I will offer these 12 coins at $5.00 each. Limit one per order or person, with money back guarantee.

THE AMAZING truth about Canadian coins! Is it true that some Canadian coins of which only 500 exist have been bought by collectors from uninformed dealers for a song? Is it true that coins with a mintage of less than 100,000 may be still purchased for a few dollars? The answers to these questions have appeared in the "Canadian Bulletin." Sample copy free! Year $1.00. Marles & Co., Box 833-CW, Calgary, Canada.

COIN ALBUM

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

Our albums and books are available at your local coin dealer, stamp dealer, book store, hobby shop or at department store coin counters.

Dealers are invited to send for our Wholesale Price List, using their business stationery and furnishing suitable credit references as to their commercial status.
